

PRIVACY POLICY

Trinity Episcopal School does not share personal and financial information associated with financial transactions with any 3rd parties. Any data and any additional information that we gather via on-line forms, like contact information, is only used internally, and we never sell any information that you give us. Statistical information on the school as a whole (not individually identifiable) may be prepared from the data and shared with accrediting bodies and other organizations as required of the school.

Our site contains links to other sites. Trinity is not responsible for the privacy practices or the content on these websites.

All highly sensitive information, like credit card numbers, is encrypted through a secure connection (SSL).

The content, including the images, of our website, especially in those sections which are password protected, are intended for specific individuals or groups for a specific purpose and are protected by law. You are hereby notified that any disclosure, copying, or distribution of this content, or taking any action based on it, is strictly prohibited.

Trinity Episcopal School places the highest priority on protecting the privacy of its donor information.

Trinity Episcopal School does not sell, rent or trade personal information to any other entity.