

Diversity Project

After reading both novels, you are going to create a project celebrating your heritage. Several ideas are listed below but you are free to come up with an idea of your own. You will be presenting in front of the class on the first day so please come prepared.

- *Poster board
- * Diorama
- * Come in costume
- * PowerPoint

The point of this project is to show your heritage. We are all different so every project should be different.
